

Dual vanities are separated by a seated counter and window with brilliant natural light.
Lighting: City Lights Detroit; Marble backsplash: Ann Sacks;
Mirrors: Lighting Resource Studio, CAI Designs

SUNNY DELIGHT

The original primary bathroom with its traditional dark wood finishes, two separate vanities, and small shower did not meet the homeowners' lifestyle and needs. In keeping with Kasprovicz's design objectives to keep the interiors modern and fresh, she redesigned the bathroom with bright white tile, maximized natural light, and combined the his and her vanities. "The new bathroom has an airy feel," she says. "By using floating cabinets, light tones, and stone that has a reflective finish with a bit of sparkle, it feels like the space doubled in size."