

The eldest son’s room is more sophisticated with a subtle approach to individual expression.

“The oldest son is more austere and very reserved,” explains Martin. “Many of the furnishings in his room were pre-existing, but we updated the furniture with dark wood finishes and added complementing chrome hardware pulls.” Horizontal stripes were also used on the walls and custom cornice board to create the illusion of more space.

“The space is like their own three-bedroom apartment down there,” concludes Jane. In addition to their bedrooms, the computer room, lounge area, and kitchenette, the area also has a full bathroom and additional storage that is not pictured. “It truly is a young gamer’s paradise!”
