

Crafted with a baker in mind, the designers created this kitchen with double islands so that the client has the ease and access to whip up dozens of cookies. Photograph by James Haefner.