

A JEWEL UNDER THE STAIRS

What might have been dead space is now a conversation piece: a glass-front, under-stairs wine display and cigar humidor in rift-cut oak with matte black pegs. Midway through the project, a new humidor required deeper shelving. Ruth solved the challenge with a slim black channel and infill—a clever adjustment that extended the shelf by three inches while adding a refined, stylish accent.