

THE LOUNGE THAT LIVES LARGE

In the main living area, deep sectional seating anchors the area with space for up to eight, creating a true gathering spot for family and friends. A structural post became a design feature thanks to a petite bar-ledge clad in the same fluted wood seen at the island in the bar area.

The dramatic multi-TV “video wall” is composed of four individual screens that can be synced together for a stadium-style viewing experience or split to stream multiple games at once—ideal for game day hosting. Along the adjacent wall, three framed art pieces add rhythm and balance; one cleverly hinged to disguise the electrical panel for quick access.
