

THE NICHE THAT BECAME A RETREAT

A custom built-in daybed transforms an awkward niche into the coziest seat in the house. Sized roughly like a queen bed, it invites lounging with layered pillows and textured upholstery, while painted fluted panels echo millwork details seen at the bar and post ledge.

Practical touches elevate the comfort: two full-width drawers beneath store blankets and pillows, while slim ledges along the perimeter provide resting spots for drinks during movie nights or casual gatherings. Sculptural sconces flank the bed, casting a soft glow which gives the niche its own sense of place.
